

Teacher of Design and Technology Key Stage 2 & 3

Working hours: Part time 0.5

Start Date: September 2019

Merchant Taylors' Schools are looking for a creative, inspirational Design and Technology Teacher. The successful candidate will ideally be capable of teaching Design and Technology in both the Junior and Senior Schools, and may also be asked to teach Design Technology at Merchant Taylors' Primary School and/or the Senior Girls' School, with specialist subject knowledge to support our aims and objectives at all levels. You will also be expected to play a full part in the department's extra curricular provision, which includes local and national competitions, visits to museums and trips. Additionally, a willingness to contribute to school extra curricular activities, and in particular, sport, will be an advantage.

The school is a member of HMC. We have a long record of outstanding achievement, high educational standards and strong pastoral care.

There are currently 560 boys, of whom 160 are in the Sixth Form and 150 in the Junior School. Founded in 1620, the school has since that time been providing an academic and disciplined education for local boys from a wide range of backgrounds.
